Farmer to Farmer Hay, Forage & Corn List

The Farmer to Farmer Hay, Forage and Corn List puts Wisconsin farmers in touch with one another for the purpose of buying and/or selling hay, other forages, and corn. The farmer to farmer list is free of charge to both buyers and sellers. Users can list or search for hay, alfalfa haylage, sorghum sudangrass, corn silage, high moisture corn, or corn grain. Search just one county or several counties at the same time. UW-Cooperative Extension assumes no responsibility in the transaction of buying or selling the items listed on this web site. All transactions and negotiations are handled directly between buyers and sellers.

Livestock producers may find feed inventories lower than they would like. A dry growing season during 2006 in Northwest Wisconsin has left some livestock producers in that area of Wisconsin in need of forage.

UW-Extension has established a website to assist growers facing shortages to find growers who have excess feed to sell. The website address is: <http://farmertofarmer.uwex.edu>. The Farmer to Farmer Hay, Forage and Corn List is free of charge for both buyers and sellers. Users can search for hay, alfalfa haylage, sorghum sudangrass, corn silage, high moisture corn, or corn grain. They can search just one county or a number of counties at once.

This site can benefit both buyers and sellers. Buyers can locate feed for their livestock quickly. Sellers can find buyers and save money in grain drying costs if they sell their corn crop as high moisture corn or corn silage.

Buyers and sellers can access the website immediately. The site will remain active until April 1, 2007. People who wish to use this service, but do not have access to the Internet, can get assistance at their county UW-Extension office. For more information, please contact your local UW-Extension Office.
